Welcome home to the highly sought-after Baywood at Morgan Crossing. Built by Pulte Homes in 2024, this newer community offers a resort-like atmosphere reminiscent of Palm Springs, surrounded by picturesque mountain views and a peaceful setting. Drought-tolerant landscaping enhances both the front and rear yards while complementing the community's thoughtfully designed aesthetic. Upon entering, you're greeted by scenic mountain views in the distance and an inviting formal living room accented with elegant wainscoting.

The heart of the home features an open-concept design with a dedicated workstation, spacious family room, dining area, and a chef-inspired kitchen complete with a large center island, stainless steel appliances, and ample storage. Additional storage beneath the staircase, providing a practical space for seasonal items and household essentials. Upstairs, you'll find all five bedrooms, including a spacious primary suite designed as a private retreat. The primary bath features dual vanities, a soaking tub, separate shower, and a generous walk-in closet. Four additional secondary bedrooms offer comfortable proportions, abundant natural light, and beautiful views. The backyard is designed for low-maintenance enjoyment with drought-tolerant landscaping, artificial turf, and plenty of space for gardening, entertaining, or simply relaxing while taking in the surrounding mountain scenery. Additional features include central heating and air conditioning, solar, and all the benefits of modern construction in one of the area's newest communities.
